Achieving Greatness through Supply Chain Efforts: Ten Traits for Leaders

Extensive directed research and specific feedback from annual surveys among supply chain professionals has yielded sufficient data related to supply chain competence to describe just what has been happening around the world in terms of business performance improvement. Synthesising the data into a specific set of ten traits that characterise the leaders provides the understanding of how to achieve greatness with a supply chain effort for any business in any industry. In this dinner presentation, Chuck shares:

- How lessons from lean manufacturing are being integrated into supply chain improvement efforts
- How much financial improvement is possible through supply chain efforts
- What distinguishes the leaders from followers and laggards
- What specific traits the best supply chains pursue to assure their front running positions
- How S&OP has become a renewed process for achieving greater correlation between actual demand and supply
- Why people hold the secret to attaining best in class performance
- What barriers need to be overcome to achieve a position of greatness in any industry
